- Celebrate Free Rein Foundation's 10th anniversary and its impactful work in rescuing horses and using them in Equine Assisted Therapy Programs to support teens facing stress, anxiety, and mental health issues. Walk around their serene pasture in the Huntington Central Park Equestrian Center, a safe haven for a herd of rescued horses and a place where healing interactions unfold.
- Observe the wildlife and birds that have returned to thrive in these new habitats and the profound impact of community-driven conservation in this, the 50th year of Huntington Central Park, and the 26th year of the HB Tree Society.
- Connect with nature and support a vital community cause!
